Happy New Year!!

The holidays are over and we can relax for a while. 2019 was a great year for our Squadron with the events we planned. We finished the year with a Wine Tasting, and our Holiday Party. It was great to see our District 5 Commander Walter Neese, SN-IN at our Holiday Party. The Pollyanna Gift Exchange was the best we have ever had. The Toys For Tots was a great success, thank you all for your generosity.

The Executive Committee has put together a calendar of events for the upcoming year and we are looking forward to having you join us throughout the year.

During the winter months it is a good time to start preparing for next years boating season. Going over your boat fixing the small problems before they become something that could ruin your day on the water. Taking a class to improve your skills and confidence for being a better boater and safer boater and being able to handle situations that may arise.

You also want to be careful taking care of yourselves by not over doing the tasks of winter weather and having fun in the outdoors. Always be aware of icy conditions and be on the lookout for dangerous situations while driving or crossing the roadways.

I am excited to get together at upcoming events and boating throughout the season. Be safe, have fun, and enjoy everything you do. Let's have a great year.

Delhigh Helping Community at Thanksgiving

Delhigh in some way has always given back to the community. The month of November, we decided to focus on being thankful. Starting November 21st to 27th, the squadron had collected and distributed 128 loaves of bread, rolls and bagels to 14 families in need and 3 local organizations. Also five, 13 pound Best Yet Turkeys were given to the 5 families most in need to celebrate a good Thanksgiving.

All the families fell on hard times and are actively looking for employment or taking care of medical issues.

The Bethlehem organizations, Hoga Crea for Men and Hoga Crea for Women receive NO funding from the government and as a self sufficient organization, work hard for the funds to pay all housing, tax, living and food expenses.

The families and organizations were very thankful and expressed their deep gratitude to Delhigh for their generosity.

It was a blessing to see the grateful look on the faces of everyone. This out reach put everything in perspective of what the thanksgiving spirit is all about and it made us more aware of how blessed we are and helping others in true need is very humbling.

Bread and goodies piling up before Thanksgiving.

Some of the Thanksgiving Turkeys and Christmas Hams.

Bread ready for Christmas Eve delivery.

Delhigh Helping Community At Christmas

At Christmas time when people are busy thinking about what they are going to purchase for everyone on their list, Delhigh was busy delivering 141 loaves of Pepperidge Farms bread, bagels, cookies and other products. We also delivered thirteen, 8 to 11 pound Hatfield, Leidy's and Alderfer semi-boneless and boneless hams.

Once again all the families and organizations were very thankful and grateful to Delhigh and expressed their gratitude. As one family put it, 'Your generosity has made Thanksgiving and Christmas special days for our family'.

The grateful look on the faces of everyone, made the true meaning of Christmas a blessed and humbling experience.

It is not about the presents.

Administrative Officer's Report
Lt/C Gary Corcoran, JN

At the end of November we went to Weathered Vineyards for wine tasting. While the tasting room was smaller than the web photos suggested, everyone had a good time enjoying the delicious varieties of wine. Several of us found some of their vintages tasty enough to buy a bottle or two to take home. Afterwards all were invited by the commander to join him and his family at 1760 House for dinner and the food and atmosphere was as good as it always is.

In December we visited the McKenzie's house for appetizers and happy hour before heading to Beck's Land and Sea for our Holiday party dinner and the Pollyanna gift exchange. Some Pollyanna gifts were so popular that they were stolen and exchanged hands multiple times. We also collected Toys For Tots which the commander dropped off the next day.

In January we had our Soup or Salad Potluck along with our monthly meeting at the church. It was a little funny that the bridge members outnumbered the audience but the cold bug going around had hit a number of our members who stayed home to rest up and are feeling much better now. Many of us also went to the Phantoms hockey game again this year which is always an exciting, though chilly way to spend an evening.

Upcoming events have been updated by the executive committee for the coming year. There are lots of events to choose from so take a look and save some dates! Check the information in this Delhighlights for details of events coming up in the next few months.

Educational Officer's Report

Lt/C Doug McKenzie, JN

Hello and welcome to winter. I hope everybody has winterized their vessels by now. If you haven't, you should do so ASAP. Fortunately it hasn't been very cold yet here in the Lehigh Valley but there is snow in the forecast as I write this article.

The Executive Committee has finalized the new design of our Squadron banner with our new name: America's Boating Club Lehigh Valley. I really like the new name and especially the new Squadron logo (picture below). Things are looking good and I'm looking forward to a great 2020!

A few dates to remember and attend:

Ahoy Mates! Greetings from your Educational Dept. As you may know, January is when we teach the ABC course. We have just completed this years' course and it went very well. We had 17 students, and all of them passed the course. This was our first time using the updated ABC3 course and the improvements were impressive. Thank you to all those involved in updating the course!

The updated manuals contain the new labeling requirements from the US Coast Guard for PFD's. Instead of Types 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, they will now be designated as Level 50 through Level 275. This is designed to align the US with international standards of labeling. The numbers represent the buoyancy of the life vest along with icons depicting the proper use of the life vest as seen in the Dec-Jan Delhighlights.

I'm happy to say there was some interest in Boat Handling also, so that will be scheduled soon!

At last year's Fall Conference, Delhigh returned the Prince Henry Award and it was given to the next deserving squadron. We will miss having him at our events, but I'm sure he had a good time while he was with us. Now we need to get some of our AP's and JN's working so we can win him back!

VSC Safety Corner
By: P/C Michael Lebeduik, III, JN

It is the time of year when everyone is getting cabin fever and looking forward to getting back on the water. The love of water and boating gives us a common bond. Now is the time to think about how we can prepare our boats for a Vessel Safety Check. We have a few months to check over our equipment and update or replace whatever needs our attention.

What is a Vessel Safety Check?

VSC is a FREE program to help boaters better understand and voluntarily come into compliance with the federal and individual state recreational boating safety regulations. Conducting a VSC by an examiner allows a one-on-one contact with the owner or operator in hope that they will maintain and operate their vessel in a safe manner. It is also a time when boating education is introduced into the conversation making the public more aware of the classes available to them to help increase their knowledge and refresh their on the water boating skills, promoting safe boating and respect for the waterways on which we enjoy.

It is that time to think about what has to be done to your vessel to be in compliance with State and Federal Regulations. Remember this is FREE!!

Here is a check list to go over before having a Vessel Safety Check:

1. Registration number properly displayed
2. Registration / Documentation
3. Personal Flotation Devices
4. Visual Distress Signals
5. Fire Extinguishers
6. Ventilation
7. Backfire Flame Control
8. Sound Producing Devices / Bell
9. Navigation Lights
10. Pollution Placard
11. MARPOL Trash Placard
12. Marine Sanitation Devices
13. Navigation Rules
14. State and Local Requirements
15. Overall Vessel Condition

Owner / operators will be awarded a 2020 VSC Decal upon passing the Vessel Safety Check.

Your Vessel Safety Examiners are getting ready for another successful year. We are all looking forward to beautiful sunny skies, warm days and a great boating season just around the corner.

Anyone interested in becoming a Vessel Examiner or in need of a Vessel Safety Examiner to examine their vessel, please contact: P/C Michael Lebeduik, III, JN via phone: (610) 730-2798, or email: TJA.ML3@verizon.net

Treating hypothermia

What to do (and not to do) in the event of hypothermia

Hypothermia is the abnormal lowering of the body's internal temperature resulting from loss of heat due to exposure to cold air, wind or water. It can occur even on bright, sunny days. Many deaths attributed to drowning are caused by hypothermia.

Hypothermia's effects appear more quickly in water than air and much more quickly in cold water. So be particularly careful on northern lakes in late spring when water temperatures are still very low.

To delay the occurrence of hypothermia, dress warmly, stay dry and keep out of the wind. If you fall into the water while wearing a life jacket, you can delay hypothermia by remaining inactive. A life jacket lessens the need to move around in the water and will help conserve and retain body heat.

If you are alone in the water, hold the inner side of your arms tightly against the sides of your chest; press your thighs together and raise them to close off the groin region where blood vessels are close to the surface. This is the H.E.L.P. (Heat Escape Lessening Posture) position.

When more than one victim is in the water, the huddle position is recommended. Victims huddle together as a group with chests side by side and arms around each other's shoulders to minimize heat loss.

Watch this video from America's Boating Channel to learn more on cold water survival.

Symptoms of hypothermia*

- Shivering, numbness, glassy stare
- Apathy, weakness, impaired judgment
- Loss of consciousness

What to do

- Seek immediate medical attention.
- Send someone to call for an ambulance. (On the water, radio for medical assistance on Channel 16.)
- Check the victim's breathing and pulse.
- Give rescue breathing and CPR as necessary.
- Gently move the person out of the cold.
- Remove wet clothing and dry the person.
- Insulate the person's body from the cold ground.
- Warm the person slowly by wrapping in blankets or by putting dry clothing on him or her.
- Share body heat.
- Hot water bottles and chemical hot packs may be used if first wrapped in a towel or blanket before applying.

What not to do

- Do not warm the person too quickly, such as immersing him or her in warm water. Rapid warming can cause dangerous heart rhythms.
- Don't apply direct heat.
- Don't massage or rub.
- Don't provide alcoholic beverages.

Cold weather injuries

Tips to stay safe in the winter months

Pay attention to the weather. Just like during boating season, being aware of the predicted weather could save your life by giving you a chance to prepare for bad weather or, better yet, avoid it altogether.

Damp cold vs. dry cold

It's not just the ambient temperature that needs to be noted; it's the wind and the water as well. Cold temperatures are magnified by the wind, windchill can kill, and a dry cold is far more tolerable than a damp cold.

Fairbanks, Alaska, is so far inland that there's no large body of water to moderate the temperature. It's dry, and there's usually no wind. The cold in Fairbanks is surprisingly tolerable even down to 20 or 30 degrees below zero. On the other hand, in Bethel, Alaska, the effects of the Bering Sea produce strong winds across the tundra and 20 degrees Fahrenheit is downright dangerous with a 20- to 30-knot breeze. Frostbite and hypothermia are common there. In Louisiana, it's so humid, even in the winter, that temperatures above freezing are dangerously cold.

Know what to wear

Dress in layers. Moisture, in terms of sweat and rain, are killers in cold weather. Avoid sweating at all costs. Dressing in layers allows you to shed clothes when you are active and put them on when you are at rest. Wear a base layer that is designed to wick moisture away from your skin. A middle layer should provide insulation. The outer layer should be water- and wind-proof to keep deadly rain and wind chills off your skin.

Wear a hat. You lose a tremendous amount of heat through your head, face and neck. Cover your skin with a face mask, goggles, socks and mittens (better than gloves). Exposed skin is far more likely to freeze and result in frostbite.

As your body tries to conserve heat, it will shunt circulation from your extremities to your core. Garments with sleeves are far more effective than vests at keeping the core warm.

Cover your mouth and nose to minimize breathing painfully cold air into your lungs. A neck tube or gaiter is far safer than a scarf. The loose end of a scarf is a strangulation hazard if it gets caught on a ski lift, a car door, or in an escalator's rubber railing.

Keep your house between 65 degrees and 70 degrees Fahrenheit and wear enough clothes to keep you warm while at home. Be sure to eat enough food so that your body can produce the energy it needs to provide warmth. Winter is not the time to diet. The body needs available calories to produce energy.

Ask your doctor if your medications may make you more susceptible to cold injury, and check on your elderly family members and friends frequently to be sure they are safe during the winter months. —Jeff Short

A BIT OF FUN

Riddle 1

A Japanese ship is on route back to the shore from the Atlantic Ocean. Seeking the silent waves, the captain decides to take a shower. He keeps his Rolex and diamond studded gold bracelet on the shelf and goes for a shower. When he returns back, he finds both the watch and bracelet missing. He immediately calls the four crew members and asks them what they were doing during that duration. Following are the answers:

1. French Guy, the Cook: I was in the kitchen, making bacon sandwiches for everybody.
2. Russian Guy, the engineer: I was in the generator room, checking the generator.
3. Pakistani Guy, the housekeeper: I saw that the flag hoisted on the ship was upside down, so I went to correct it.
4. Srilankan Guy, the second housekeeper: I was tired and taking a quick nap.

The captain immediately knew who the thief was. Can you tell?

Riddle 2

You are on a sail boat and you are in the middle of the ocean... the boat has four boards on the side that are 2 feet wide each... if the water level rises 4 feet, which board will the water reach?

Riddle 3

On a fine sunny day a ship was in the harbor. All of a sudden the ship began to sink. There was no storm and nothing wrong with the ship yet it sank right in front of the spectators eyes. Why?
