With winter upon us and time on our hands, this is a good time to start preparing for next year. Start by checking all your Person Flotation Devices, or PFDs for tears or worn seams. Check that labels are in good condition and can still be read clearly, straps and clasps still securely close and latch together, and that any throw cushions are still in good working condition.

Remove batteries from radios, flashlights and hand-held GPS devices to prevent corrosion. Clean your lines of dirt and mold that can cause a break-down of the fibers. Go through first aid kits to replace old or out-of-date creams and ointments.

Taking time to do these small, but important spot checks give you a head start for a more enjoyable time out on the water during this year's boating season.

Enjoy the winter and be safe.

Executive Officer's Report

P/C Robert Rendish, P

As we enter the winter months, I'm already planning for what can be done in preparation for the upcoming boating season.

If you don't have a Safe Boating Certificate, look into your local USPS Squadron, or ask at your local marina or marine store if they have information about an upcoming class in your area.

In the state of Pennsylvania for example, if you were born on or after January 1, 1982, you must have a Safe Boating Certificate.

Another source for the Safe Boating Certificate if there are no USPS squadrons in your vicinity, consider the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. They offer the class in an open setting like we do.

This squadron, America's Boating Club Lehigh Valley, Delhigh Power Squadron, just completed our first set of Safe Boating classes, and I am extremely proud of our Educational Department for what they prepare, set up, and how we present the material and information in a casual classroom setting.

With the depth of knowledge, vast experience, and basic hands-on boating skills, our educational department, with more than 6 certified Safe Boating Instructors, is informative, well-versed, and strong considering the size of our squadron.

I am also extremely thankful to have Peters Marine Service, Allentown, PA, partnering with our squadron to provide the ample area and space necessary for us to conduct our classes for many years now.

I am proud and fortunate to have been an active instructor for more than 10 years.

So to further enhance your boating education, if you really need to, go online to seek out boating education and handling.

Or you can pick up a book; one I highly recommend called Chapman Piloting & Seamanship.

It might take a while to finish the book.

To the Breezes.

Administrative Officer's Report

Our annual holiday party was fun and the food was delicious. We had a successful Pollyanna gift exchange and collected many Toys for Tots donations!

Our full calendar for the year is available, and listed on the last page of this issue of Delhighlights. We hope that you will find events that you would like to attend and mark them on your calendar. All are always welcome!

Our Founder's Day meeting will be Wednesday, February 5 at Morgan's Local Flavor. We will meet early for drinks and comradery, and then sit to order and have the meeting. This is the meeting where our new bridge is voted in, so please make a point to attend and support your incoming bridge if you can. We will also be discussing some changes to our schedule for the year, so don't miss an opportunity to have your voice heard.

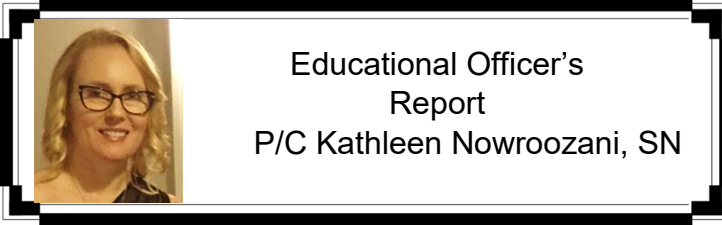

Game Night at the Meisner's is Saturday, February 15 with a pot luck and lots of fun. Feel free to bring some games to play, or just come and join in the games.

Our Change-of-Watch has been moved to Saturday, March 8. We will again be at Adagio's Seafood Restaurant in Bethlehem. This is always a formal, but fun event and I hope that you will all support the bridge and attend their pledging in for another year.

Grogu festively donning Last Call during the holiday season!

Educational Officer's Report
P/C Kathleen Nowroozani, SN

Our safe boating course is now completed. The urgency of the public to get out on the water that occurred during Covid has died down, which was obvious with our class of only 3 students. All students passed and with New York now requiring licenses for all boaters, maybe we will have enough interest to have a second course in the early spring, but only time will tell.

With winter in full swing there is still plenty of time to take a course online with America's Boating Club. There is a great course to refresh your charting and you can get more information about that here if you are interested.

As always if you are interested in taking a course, there are many online and also many taught by other squadrons. With enough students, we certainly have enough instructors to get one going here as well. If you are interested please let me know and I will do my best to find you a course that is being taught.

Have you read the Spring issue of The Ensign? There are many interesting articles and information in this National Newsletter. You can find it here:

The Ensign magazine

Staying safe on the water requires more than just boating knowledge; it also means being prepared to handle emergencies. America's Boating Club | United States Power Squadrons emphasizes the importance of safety through education, including first aid tips designed specifically for boaters. Whether you're navigating calm waters or rough seas, having the right skills and supplies could make all the difference. In this blog, we'll cover basic first aid tips, discuss the contents of a boat first aid kit, and explain how training and preparation can help you become a more confident boater.

What Are Some Basic First Aid Tips?

Every boater should be equipped with basic first aid tips to address minor injuries or emergencies while on the water. Here are a few to keep in mind:

- Always assess the situation and ensure your safety before helping others.
- Keep wounds clean and covered to avoid infection.
- Learn to treat common boating injuries, such as cuts, burns, and sprains.

Taking part in first aid and CPR training offered by organizations like America's Boating Club | United States Power Squadrons can equip you with the confidence and knowledge needed to handle emergencies effectively. These courses also help you respond to more severe incidents, like drowning or cardiac arrest, ensuring you're ready for anything on the water.

What Is in a Marine First Aid Kit?

A well-stocked boat first aid kit is an essential part of your safety equipment. The contents should meet boat first aid kit requirements, including items like:

- Waterproof bandages and dressings.
- Antiseptic wipes and ointments.
- Tweezers, scissors, and adhesive tape.
- Pain relievers and seasickness remedies.
- Emergency blankets and splints.

Maintaining your kit is just as important as stocking it. Check expiration dates regularly, and replenish supplies after every trip. Having a complete first aid kit ensures you're prepared for any situation while boating.

What to Prepare for Boating?

Preparation is key when it comes to boating safety. Beyond a boat first aid kit, ensure your vessel is equipped with marine safety essentials like life jackets, fire extinguishers, marine VHF radio, and navigation tools. Planning for potential emergencies, such as severe weather or mechanical failure, can make a significant difference. Water first aid knowledge is another critical component of boating preparedness. Learning how to treat hypothermia, dehydration, and other water-related injuries can help you handle emergencies until professional assistance arrives.

Why Boaters Should Consider Joining a Squadron

Joining America's Boating Club | United States Power Squadrons is more than just a membership—it's an opportunity to enhance your skills and safety on the water. Courses on emergency first aid, navigation, and seamanship help you become a more skilled and confident boater. These programs provide practical knowledge and hands-on experience that can prepare you for any situation.

Beyond training, being part of a squadron connects you with a community of experienced boaters who can share valuable insights and support. Together, you can ensure that your time on the water is both safe and enjoyable.

Stay Prepared and Stay Safe

Being prepared with the right knowledge and supplies is vital for safe boating. Equip yourself with first aid tips, keep a well-stocked boat first aid kit, and consider taking first aid and CPR training to handle emergencies effectively. America's Boating Club | United States Power Squadrons offers training and resources that can help you become a better boater while connecting with a supportive community.

If you're ready to improve your skills and safety on the water, contact us today. For more information on boating safety and tips, check out our blog. Together, let's make every boating experience a safe and enjoyable one!

A BIT OF FUN

Did You Know?

There is no official standard for distinguishing a lake from a pond in North America? The consensus is anything more than 20 acres is considered to be a lake, and North America has 123,439 of them! Most people prefer freshwater boating because lakes are less prone to storms, offer a multitude of different fish to fisherman, maintain a consistent tide, and are valued for their peaceful tranquility. Although it's difficult to rank the best lakes across our great country, there are nine that stand out as "must see" for boaters.
